

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 8, 1963

Dear Mr. Kirkpatrick:

It would indeed be a pleasure and a privilege to visit the Central Intelligence Agency Headquarters and to meet and discuss matters of mutual interest with you and some of your senior officers.

Would you be good enough to ask your secretary to inform mine as to a convenient date.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "CH. HORSKY".

Charles A. Horsky
Advisor for
National Capital Affairs

Mr. Lyman B. Kirkpatrick
Executive Director
Central Intelligence Agency
